FLOOD RELIEF ACTIVITIES

Relief work and community organizations

Community organizations and movements in Kerala are very strong. It is clearly seen from the role played by religious and community organizations in flood relief. They were at the forefront of helping all sections of the people irrespective of caste or creed. From time to time, they have delivered food and clothing to relief camps, and the economically strong class of the respective communities have come forward for the same. The efforts taken by all Christian, Muslim and Hindu religious leaders during the flood relief is unprecedented. Each of the organizations, individuals and communities contributed crores of rupees directly to the Chief Minister's Disaster Relief Fund. In this regard, MES and its institutions have unequivocally exercised its historic mandate.

MES and Relief Operations

The founder of the MES Movement, Dr. Fazal Ghafoor Sahib spearheaded the relief operations. His convictions were very clear in the flood relief operations.

Dr. Fazal Ghafoor says, "The temple that was opened for prayers, the Christian churches and the Muslims who cleaned the temples probably would happen only in Kerala and also that such a rare sight could be attributed to the unbroken closeness between the communities." The MES State Committee has decided to carry out relief work worth about Rs 2 crores and has come forward to implement it. Moreover, MES institutions have canceled all celebrations regarding Onam and Bakrid and raised the money for flood relief operations. The State Committee has decided to carry out relief work in Malappuram, Palakkad, Kozhikode, Wayanad, Alappuzha and Idukki districts. Medical care was also made available under the courtesy of MES Medical College.

As part of the relief efforts, 1000 volunteers under the leadership of Dr. Fazal Ghafoor, assembled at the Alappuzha Collectorate and the clean-up operation was carried out with the help of MES college NSS and NCC volunteers. Essentials and medicines were distributed. As part of MES Mega Cleaning, MES state committee members, Dr. Fazal Ghafoor and secretary P.O Labba had reached the Alappuzha Collectorate on 30th August. State Public Works Minister, G Sudhakaran inaugurated the program. Sanitation operation was flagged off by Dr. Fazal Ghafoor.

Students and staff members of MES College participated in the clean-up operation until 6pm and volunteers cleaned about 30 educational institutions and several houses in Kuttanad and Alappuzha town. The second phase was carried out in the flood affected areas of Ernakulam district. Students and staff members of various higher education institutions such as Marampally MES College, Asmabi College Kodungallur, MES College Nedumkandam and MES College Erumely lead the clean-up operation. In addition, under the leadership of MES Youth Wing, study materials were distributed to students in flood affected areas in Idukki district. Voluntary organizations, individuals and communities have been mobilized for flood relief from foreign countries. As a result, a good amount of money was raised and relief work was carried out.

MES College of Koothuparambu and other MES institutes have stepped in for flood relief in Wayanad. Under the auspices of MES Ernad, Nilambur Taluk Committee, essential items were distributed free of cost to about 750 families. All the MES Institutions in Kerala and the Gulf countries have spearheaded the relief efforts and have caught the attention of the people of the State. Beyond being an educational agency, you can see the excellence of the charitable work of an organization with a social commitment. It is gratifying that the activities carried out under the leadership of MES during the flood in Alappuzha on August 30 last year was able to ensure public participation in relief work rather than aid in cash or in kind.

FLOOD RELIEF OPERATIONS CARRIED OUT BY MES COLLEGE ERUMELY, FIRST PHASE

It was on 14th August Kerala State experienced a terrible flood. The people of Kerala encountered this natural calamity irrespective of caste or creed. On this occasion MES college Erumely set an example to the state through historic and humanitarian charitable activities. The great commitment of MES College was appreciated by the Government of Kerala and the local self government institutions. The exemplary policy and compassionate work done by the Volunteers and college students was really appreciable. Students of MES college visited rehabilitation camps in Kisumam, Ranny, and Athikkayam. The cleaning activities in flood affected areas was a challenge. Kerala flood 2019 was adversely affected by many communities across the state. The Department of Social Work decided to engage with one among them, which is in Elappara of Idukki District. On 17 th August 2019, 30 students and faculties of Msw department visited the flood affected areas and relief camp at Elappara .The aim of the visit was to get an understanding about the impact of flood and to enhance their psycho social well being ensuring mental support and providing some support in terms of materials for their socio economic security. On 7th August 2019, Idukki district was lashed by heavy rains leading to the flooding of low-lying areas and landslides in the high ranges. Many parts witnessed minor landslides and some areas were cut off from the rest of the district.Quarrying, razing hills for constructions, massive scale road constructions, and expansions in the mountains and mono-crop cultivations were debated those days as contributing factors in the landslides and also by the incessant rains of high magnitude induced by climate change. But at the end the representatives could see how this disaster became a social vulnerability for those who were in the community. Elappara was one of the most affected regions in the district. The social demography of the area was more of workers in the plantation and their families. They live in Layam( small settlements) in the plantation with inadequate facilities.

Due to severe landslides almost all the Layam of the affected areas were at risk of further sliding and all of them were partially or entirely affected by the disaster. Among the affected households 60 % had totally collapsed and 40 % were partially damaged. The students along with the faculties had a mini plan of intervention for their social support and the journey planned from MES College Erumely. Representatives visited the Peermade Grama Panchayat office and handovered twenty five kits to the flood relief authority as a helping hand for the survivors.

The kits contain nutritious food items that do not need refrigeration and are easy to prepare. It also had Sanitary Napkins, Diapers, Emergency First Aid After handovering the kits the students visited Elappara flood relief camp Students reached there at 1.00 PM. The landslide survivors were residing in the parish Hall of church of God, Elappara. The relief camp was accommodated with twelve families. Of which the residents of 5 families completely collapsed and others were in partially destroyed states which cannot withstand further hit.

The facilities provided in camp were much limited for 12 families to survive. They were lacking basic amenities. The survivors of the disaster were in a traumatic situation. Most of the survivors lacked hope and felt helplessness. Students build rapport with them. The affected community members shared their circumstances and worries with the students. The students enlightened the hopeless by providing instructions about the support the government provides for the affected of landslides for upliftment. The landslide created both social and economic impacts. Most of the families there were joined and have more than 6 members. The layams were at risk of sliding and can't suffer a further hit. For resettlement they need to rebuild the layams Or need to settle on another which may not have basic facilities for a joint family to reside. Families were economically weak to rebuild the layams. Many of them were suffering from chronic diseases and not getting essential medical supplies at camp .The students interacted with them for sometime . Landslide affected regions were visited by the students and prepared detailed notes on the same.. Cultivating areas, houses, roads totally collapsed in the regions. The inhabitants were feared to suffer from further hit.
